BUSINESS MEN REVIEW PAST YEAR

Annual Reports Given at Association Meeting-Accomplishments Shown in Numerous Lines-Membership Gain Was Large-Present Times Not Inviting for New Industries-Vice President Cruickshank and Others Report From State Meeting.

With a good sized representation of have attended six directors' meetings members in attendance, the Norwica of the state association and Business Men's association held their annual meeting in Buckingham Memo-in Hartford. rial on Friday evening with the presi-dent in the chair and with the secretary, Charles W. Pearson, at his post. The meeting was called to order by the president, and the roll was called by Secretary Pearson. Then followed the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, which were accepted and placed on file.

Reports from Convention. President Branche then called on the legates to the state convention at aterbury for a report. William H. Waterbury for a report. William H. Cruickshank in making his report as a delegate spoke of the change in name of the State Business Men to the State Chamber of Commerce and said it was surprising to see such a large number of delegates gathered from all over the state. Robert McNeely, another delegate, spoke of the gathering as a notable one, and William E. Woods was also called upon to make a report as a delegate. Secretary Péarson reported that there were delegations from 27 associations at the convention, and he also referred to the report on the agricultural and rural work which was given by President H. R. Branche of the local association. Frank H, Smith, the chairman of the new industries committee, reported that the committee had not been as active the past two or three months as in former times, as the present did no seem to warrant activity. He said He said that although they have had several inquiries there was nothing of a defi-nite nature to report at present.

Secretary Pearson's Report. The next report was that of Secretary C. W. Pearson, covering the ac-tivities of the past year. Secretary Pearson's report showed that the preent membership is 207, a gain of 49 the past 12 months. The report, which was a glowing one, was accepted and ordered placed the Board of Directors and Mem-bers of the Norwich Business Men's Association: As president of this body, my stew-ardship ceases tonight and naturally you expect me to give you a report of progress made during the year and such recommendations for its future development as seems most consistent with the general conditions of our city and the growth of our organization. and the growth of our organization. Our secretary has given you a concise and detailed report of the activities within the local body during the past year, of what has been accomplished here at home, but he has not attempted to tell you how this association stands within the state body or how it is regarded when placed in comparison with similar organizations, some 40 in number, around the state. In order that you may be informed. I will read with similar organizations, some 40 in number, around the state. In order that you may be informed, I will read from President Johnson's report made before the annual convention held in Waterbury October 15.

President sranche's Report. President Branche then made nual report as follows:

Here the president read the following extract from President Johnston's ing extract from President Johnston's The largest increase in membership during the year as reported is shown by the Windsor Business Men's assoriation with a splendid result of 100 per cent increase and also has the largest percentage of members to its vo ing population—17 per cent.

"Norwich is a splendid second in increase in membership, showing 17 per cent increase, and while its percentage as to voters is somewhat smaller, I want to say to you that it is one of the most thoroughly alive and progressive associations in New England.

"Putnam has taken a new lease of life and shows 50 per cent increase with 10 per cent of all its voters enrolled as workers. "Wethersfield shows the second largest percentage of voters enrolled, 16 percent, with an increase in member-ship of 15 per cent. It does prove just what I have contended for several years, that the local Business Men's associations of today in almost every city and town have completely out srcwn its purely mercantile member-ship of former years and is actively interested in the civic and general business development of its community and occupying a much broader field

Continuing his address, Mr. Branche It is not through the efforts of any has grown to its present size, but rather through united and efficient team work and my purpose tonight in calling your attention to our president's re-port is for the purpose of calling your attention to the important fact that you are a part of an organization that carries more weight than just what appears locally and that the Norwich Business Men's association is looked upon today in the state as one of the brightest and most progressive among all the local bodies.

Our advanced step in organizing the New London County in progressive line.

New London County Improvement lea-gue, the first in the state has attract-more attention to this body than any other movement ever attempted by this association and we are receiving much favorable comment from without as well as within our own ranks. I wish also to touch briefly upon our affiliation with the Eastern Connecti-rut Development committee. We have held and had representations at seven meetings during the year fust ended as follows: Three at Nor-wich, two at Willimantic, one at Danlelson and one at New London. The subjects for decussion brought before sald committee consists of the following:

Trade schools, canal to Worcester,
Bullding and Loan association, Farm Bureau, midwinter banquet, Industrial map, irolley line to Storrs, lectures on Salesmanship, and the Magazine,
Though any official to storre Through our affiliation with the five mingling with their various membber ships much useful information has been gained and many pleasant acquaintances formed that I feel have proved of benefit to our home asso-provad of benefit to our nome association.

It has been my very great pleasure to be able to attend two conventions during my term of effice that I feel should receive more than passing notice in this report, via; The National Rivers and Harbers convention held in New Haven at a subsequent date. This association was represented at both gatherings by Past President Frank H. Smith and myself and reports in full have been received by our home association.

In Charge of Church Supper Those in charge of the missionary supper at the Second Congregational church Friday evening were the fellowing:

Supper Committee—Mrs. George Furners, Mrs. Jareme Corant, Waltresses—Miss Margaret Lanz Miss Melic Kampf, Miss Ruth Breck-enridge, Miss Ruth Wasdinansee, Miss Ruth Wasdinansee, Miss Ruth Wasdinansee, Miss Ruth Wasdinansee, Miss Ruth Steps Wade, in Hartford.

Harking back to the part of President Johnson's report that refers to the growth of the locals. That the local Business Men's associations of today in almost every city and town have completely outgrown their purely mercantile membership of former years and are actively engaged in the civic and general business development of their communities and that we are occupying a much broader field than ever before, is by Secretary Pearson's report proven beyond contradicson's report proven beyond contradiction and I would therefore recommen that this association listen with clos that this association listen with close attention to the report and recommendations of the special by-laws committee when they make their report and urge upon you the need that this body follow in the lead of thet state body and broaden the scope of its work and its field of development.

Passing hurriedly over my personal weaknesses I wish to say that I have weaknesses, I wish to say that I have given unsparingly of my time to the needs of the association, attending with one or two exceptions every local, state and national committee meeting as well as numerous special meetings called for purposes that it was hoped might advance in a variety of ways our city and fown.

In closing wish to thank the directors and members for their support and co-operation without which it would have been impossible to carry forward the vast amount of work this association has been engaged in the past

Trusting that you will give to my uccessor the same splendid suppor that you have accorded me and that the year 1915 will be one of promise and accomplishments is my earnes desire. The greater activities of this body have increased in a large degree the duties and the labors of the sec-retary but the results have justified the time and labor spent.

Change o' Name Deferred. The special committee appointed to submit suitable revised by-laws at the The report of the treasurer was then read by Secretary Pearson, and it also was accepted and placed on file. The report showed that there had been receipts during the year of $1,406.32 and expenditures of $1,351.78, which leaves a balance of $64.54.

President Branche's Report.

Submit suitable revised by-laws at the meeting with reference to the amalgament of the local association with the State Chamber of Commerce, necessitating a change of name to the Norwich Chamber of Commerce, through its chairman, Frank H. Smith, reported that they had been umable to secure of the by-laws at the meeting with reference to the amalgament of the local association with the state of the local association with the meeting with reference to the amalgament of the local association with the state of the local association with the state of the local association with the state of the local association with the local association with a copy of the by-laws adopted by the State Chamber of Commerce, as the by-laws have not as yet been printed for distribution, and that they were therefore unable to make a report at the meeting. Owing to this fact the matter of the change of name and also the election of new officers to serve the coming year was deferred until a later date which is subject to the call of the president.

FOR CHARITABLE PURPOSES Through Death of Mrs. Amanda M. Spalding-Preference to Aged Widows.

The death on Friday morning of Mrs. Amanda M. Spalding, widow of Charles Spalding, at her home, No. 161 Broadway, which has been her home since the death of her husband about 30 years ago, makes available a con-siderable sum for the relief of the poor of Norwich, according to the etrms of Mr. Spalding's will. of the money for the aid of the deserving poor preference should be given to "aged widows."

The money available for this char-itable work is the interest from the trust fund created by him for the support of his widow after paying all the legacies dovised in his will Frank Johnson and Hugh H. Osgood were made the first trustees under the will, with the provision that upon the death of any trustee the probate court should appoint a successor. At the present time William H. Allen is trustee and his last annual report showed that the trust fund amounted to $61,066.

According to the will, the trustees are to distribute the interest on the fund at their discretion when it be-comes available for charity. Upon his death 30 years ago, Mr. Spaiding, who was in the cork bus-iness, left an estate that was inven-toried on October 20, 1885 as fol-
